

SUMMER 2019

Creative Flair at QAC!

Last year we introduced QAC ArtsFest as part of our Summer Games. This year we decided it needed to be an event on its own and made it much bigger, taking place over five days just before Easter.

It was a fantastic week, with students taking part in more than 20 creative workshops including synth music, 3D pens, Anime art, rainmakers, puppet making, badgemaking and many more! They really enjoyed trying something new and creating things they could keep and share with others.

Two exhibitions took place, one organised by Photography Club and one open to all students to enter featuring a range of 2D, 3D and mixed media pieces submitted really showcasing students' imaginations.

There were some amazing performances throughout the week including a 'Shotgun' performance by Dance Club, 'Monster Mash' from Performing Arts and some great music from our band, QAC Collective, who performed in the courtyard before prizes and certificates were awarded. ArtsFest 2019 was hugely popular with all involved, and will definitely be back next year, hopefully with even more workshops taking place.

We would like to say a huge thank you to the staff that put their creative talents on show to host the workshops and to everyone that donated towards making ArtsFest possible including Central Birmingham Soroptimists, Art Discount, Helix, Staedtler, Pegasus Paints, Cotswold Mounts, Cult Pens, Creation Station, Nestle Chocolate and The Works (Harborne).

QAC Collective Wows!

After the excitement of closing ArtsFest, our student band – QAC Collective – really had the performance bug and were keen to do more.

In May, we were delighted to welcome Serious Studios to College, to record some of our talented musicians. It was a great experience and insight into the music industry, resulting in an actual recording of an original song, 'Never Look Back', written by Zoe and Hamzah.

But that wasn't all. In June they joined other amazing performers on stage at Birmingham Town Hall as part of Midland Mencap's 70th birthday celebrations. They performed four songs, including 'Never Look Back', to their biggest audience yet. It was a great evening with everyone enjoying the performance, and some very loud cheers from QAC fans in the audience!

We definitely look forward to hearing more from QAC Collective next year.

A Word from Bev

QAC continues on its journey going from strength to strength...

Our College student numbers increased again this year, the highest ever at 270. The broad curriculum offered by QAC, the staff expertise, the diverse support services and the continuous focus on adulthood for all of our EHCP supported students, continues to make QAC a highly popular choice for young people, their families and the local authorities.

The staff and student voice have an essential part to play in the direction and practices of College and the range and formats of communication and gathering views from staff continues to impact positively. We were successfully, formatively assessed for our Investors in People accreditation which remains high priority. We also maintained our Investors in Diversity Accreditation and have commenced on our Leaders in Diversity journey.

We have an exciting and ambitious five-year plan (2019-2024) that will see QAC develop its Curriculum Services, Community Services and Residential Services and we are proactively collaborating and working with external partners on new ventures.

Thanks to everyone who plays a part for QAC and your dedication to our students and our College throughout this year. I am proud to be part of such a strong team of people whose excellent skills and diverse expertise makes a real difference to QAC students and clients. QAC has even more to offer in coming months and years, watch this space...!

Students and staff from Health & Social Care and Leap Opal visited Worcester Snoezelen where they explored 5 amazing sensory rooms including an interactive room, a soft play area and beautiful chill out spaces. Our Speech & Language Team introduced Construction Club where students take on roles of 'Engineer', 'Supplier' and 'Builder' to use Lego® to build different models. It involves a lot of collaboration and teamwork and is a great way to develop communication skills such as vocabulary, expressions, listening and attention as well as imagination.

IT Level 3 students have explored the world of virtual reality thanks to equipment bought as part of a Dragons Den project. They have created their own VR 360° tour of the college along with an architecture and culture based experience they shared at ArtsFest.

Coniston Crew

Students and staff from QAC SPARK group joined thousands of others in Birmingham to take part in the City's Pride event, having great fun watching the parade and soaking in the atmosphere.

Some of our residential students put their cooking skills to the test and took part in a healthy living cooking class led by Zeph, one of the chefs here at College. They joined him in the kitchen where he showed them how to prepare and assemble enchiladas from scratch, before making some themselves; it was a great session, especially the tasting part!

Members of our Governing Board visited our Hospitality café for a very special 'High Tea'. It was a great opportunity for them to see students in action and enjoy some delicious treats; they enjoyed it so much they want to do it more regularly next year.

JUNE

As part of Men's Health Week, our Healthcare Team hosted a workshop to discuss men's health issues including testicular cancer. It was a great session, with students asking lots of questions and leaving with lots of information.

Despite the less than summer-like weather, our Duke of Edinburgh group completed two expeditions as part of their programme, staying overnight and trekking the Malvern Hills!

Working with Spectra, some students and clients took to the stage for 'All Roads Lead to Bearwood', a very interactive, community inspired performance at Bearwood Street Festival.

A group of students and staff took part in a 3 day residential trip in Coniston, where they enjoyed all kinds of outdoor activities including sailing, kayaking and climbing. It was a great experience for all involved, especially those who had never done anything like it before.

Outdoor Club took to the water and went canoeing. The group had great fun as they worked together to build 'rafted canoes', with no-one going overboard!

JULY

Following a successful trial earlier in the year, our residential students enjoyed a silent disco, complete with smoke machine. They loved wearing the headsets and dancing along.

Our seventh annual Summer Games saw students, staff guests and volunteers enjoy a series of sporty, and non-sporty, challenges as teams battled it out for medals and points.

We say goodbye to a number of students and staff this summer, and would like to wish them the very best of luck for their next adventures!

Spotlight

Criminal Justice

Following successful fundraising, we were able to deliver a Criminal Justice project looking at crime, criminals and justice. Students participated in a drama workshop with Freshwater Theatre Group to learn about democracy and women's' suffrage and took a step back in time to view items from the West Midlands Police Heritage Project including capes, huge handcuffs, hand held speedometers and whistles.

Round Midnight Theatre Company performed their interactive 'Cutting Ties' workshop which looked at issues such as friendship, bullying and knife crime in school, presenting different scenarios for students to discuss.

A highlight was a talk from prestigious Craig Pinkney, a Criminologist and Youth Specialist, who spoke about knife crime, drugs, gang culture and the impact bad life choices can have on individuals, their families and friends. Craig was emotive and was able to use personal experience to tackle a very difficult subject, giving students lots of useful advice on how to make positive life choices.

The project culminated in students putting their detective skills to the test to solve a series of clues and crime scenes to help solve the QAC 'crime' of the missing trophy!

Celebrating Volunteers

Volunteers play an important role in life at QAC. We have a number of regular volunteers who support students and staff across College and each year we host international students on placement year who work as LSAs in classrooms.

We also welcome corporate volunteer teams who spend time on campus or at Umberslade working with students and/or completing various gardening and maintenance tasks for us. We pride ourselves on building strong relationships with many volunteers enjoying it so much they come back again and again.

To celebrate National Volunteers Week, and say thank you to our volunteers, we invited some to join us for 'tea and cake' hosted by one of our Hospitality groups. Since NVW last year, we have welcomed over 240 corporate volunteers (equating to over 1200 hours), and this was a great opportunity for them to meet other volunteers and share experiences.

Green Fingers

Gardening is a popular activity for many students, with sessions taking place at College and at Umberslade; it enables them to experience outdoor learning and develop a range of skills whilst having fun.

After nearly 12 years in place, our onsite raised beds area needed some attention and after some successful fundraising, and a compelling Dragons' Den pitch, we were really excited to be able to update it so that it was more practical and accessible for the students we work with now.

We were even more excited when Cadent Gas wanted to be involved and help. So on June 28th, as part of West Midlands Giving Day, we welcomed a team of eager volunteers to College to work with our Maintenance team to re-develop the existing area. They painted sheds, helped deconstruct the existing gardening beds and prepare the area ready for Maintenance to finish the project over the summer.

It was a great day for all involved and a couple of weeks of intense rain it was nice that the sun came out! We look forward to September when the students can get to work in the area and hopefully we can invite Cadent back to work with us even more.

Healthy Lifestyles

At QAC, we do our best to encourage healthy lifestyles and this year we have done a number of things to support this.

In March we hosted a 'Healthy Hearts Friday' and were visited by The Active Wellbeing Society who brought with them a hula hoopist to give a demonstration to students. They also brought a smoothie bike, with students using pedal power to produce their own delicious smoothie. There was also a presentation by one of our Healthcare Team who spoke about the importance of maintaining a healthy heart.

Our biggest event was the School Food Showdown where teams of students and staff competed against each other, and the clock, to prepare the healthiest meal from the ingredients provided. The audience then voted for the best meal using their red and green pepper cards, and plenty of cheering. It was lots of fun for everyone involved, with H&SC and LEAP Ruby walking away as winners!

Fundraising

In April, QAC SPARK group joined other Team QAC runners at Cofton Park excited for this year's Gung-Ho! run but sadly, Storm Hannah had other ideas and the event was cancelled. Although the obstacles were deflated our team was not, instead choosing to brave the cold, wet and windy conditions to run the length of the 5k circuit.

We hosted our first 'Afternoon of Wellbeing' in May, where visitors enjoyed activities such as Pilates, Archery and Qigong, different holistic therapies and stalls to mooch around, selling products such as crystals and candles. People left feeling thoroughly relaxed and recharged, giving us great feedback to grow the event for next year.

A number of staff joined Team QAC (and hundreds of others) to pound the streets of Birmingham, take in the sights and take on local City runs. In May Jakub completed the Simplyhealth Great Birmingham 10k, and in June some brave souls left the comfort of their beds to take part in a very wet, very early Sunrise 5k!

Our summer fete was a scorcher as the sun shone brightly all day as people enjoyed samba music, dance demonstrations, archery, games and ferret handling as well as a range of stalls to look around. It was a great day, raising over £1100 for College.

To show that fundraising should be fun, Bev (Principal) and Jan (Deputy Principal) were great sports and took on a series of challenges in a bid to raise money to develop our sensory provision. They took part in a sports wheelchair race, rode a tandem and even formed 'dance off' crews to battle it out, all to the amusement of students and staff!

We have now launched our Amazon wishlist, which features a range of items that you can buy and donate directly to us. The list includes sensory toys and resources, books, gardening tools and other supplies for use in classrooms and can be found by searching for Queen Alexandra College on Amazon's wishlist tab.

Big thanks to everyone who has supported our events this year, we couldn't do it without you. We are busy planning upcoming events including our first Firewalk (4th October) and Dinner in the Dark (21st November) amongst others!

Corporate & Community

We were awarded £1000 from LoveBrum towards our community workshops at Umberslade, with representatives visiting a session a few weeks later to see what the support meant. We also had the opportunity to attend their 4th birthday event and speak to guests about the work we do.

City of Birmingham Rockets Basketball Club took to Grand Central Station to showcase wheelchair basketball to travellers and shoppers, whilst raising over £600 for QAC – thanks guys!

At the start of June, students and staff from Judo Club attended the annual We Are all Making A Difference awards lunch. The group had a great time at the event, talking about what judo means to them and were delighted to accept a cheque for £2000 towards Judo Club for next year.

It has been a busy, and fun, few months with lots of great corporate volunteering sessions happening. We have worked with our friends at RBS, The West Brom DWP, AXA XL and Zurich to complete a number of maintenance, gardening and student activities at QAC and Umberslade.

UCB students supported ArtsFest with fun facepainting sessions and worked with Performing Arts students in a special effects masterclass as well as their regular sessions with Looking & Feeling Good Club.

We are excited to be building relationships with Waitrose Harborne, Cadent Gas and Equiniti who have all started volunteering with us and which we look forward to developing over the next few months.

A big thank you to all the companies and individuals that have supported us this year whether through volunteering or donating items and/or money to us; your support really does make a difference to our students and helps us help them.
